

Enjoy a more efficient fleet experience when charging electric vehicles.

The Toyota Fleet Management (TFM) EV charge card is now available.

Let's build a better future together by adding even greater efficiency to your electric vehicle fleet. To help customers confidently transition towards zero and low emissions fleets, TFM have partnered with Chargefox to be able to supply an EV charge card to keep your fleet on the road.

Integrated fleet reporting

Whilst you're charging on the go, the TFM EV charge card links in with your current fleet account and reporting, helping make it easier to manage the EVs operated in your fleet. You'll have complete visibility of associated costs, timings and usage of your EVs, allowing a holistic cost management approach.

Australia's largest public charging network

The TFM EV charge card works nationally using the Chargefox network. Australian owned and operated, it's the most comprehensive and fastest growing charging network spread across Australia.

They also offer 24/7 support via a freecall number and provide lost or stolen charge cards at no extra cost.

How to use your EV charge card

At each charging location, simply tap your EV charge card ahead of charging your vehicle and this allows all charge costs to automatically be included into your existing invoicing and fleet reporting.

Download the Chargefox app

1. Simply, search 'Chargefox' to download the app onto either an Apple or Android smartphone.
2. Use the app to find closest charging location anywhere around Australia. It will also provide real time information regarding the charging stations.

Please call or email your Relationship Manager for full details on how the TFM EV charge card can work for you.
